

Closed Loop Control

A control method where the control unit receives a signal back from the system, the actual value, and compares this value to the desired set value. Based on the variation between the two the control output is adjusted to minimise the difference between the set value and the feedback signal.

