ebm-papst announces renewed football sponsorship deals with four local teams

With the start of the football season kicking off shortly ebm-papst is pleased to announce it will be supporting its local teams once again. ebm-papst's logo will feature on the shirts of both players and supporters of Colchester United and will also be seen at multiple points around the stadiums of Leyton Orient, Southend United and Chelmsford City.

ebm-papst is based in Chelmsford, Essex and its offices are close to all four of the clubs' grounds. The company sees the sponsorship deal for the forthcoming season as an important way of showing its commitment to the local community.

David Jarvis, Managing Director of ebm-papst, says: "We are confident of great things from Colchester United, Leyton Orient FC, Southend United and Chelmsford City this season, the players and the coaches are set on success. Everybody at ebm-papst and all the supporters of the clubs will be shouting their hearts out to encourage the teams every step of the way."

Colchester United's Head of Sales, Michelle Tricker, said: "We are really pleased that ebm-papst has extended the partnership for the coming season. We have enjoyed a productive relationship in the last couple of years and are delighted that the company has further developed the partnership."

And first team manager at the U's, Joe Dunne, added: "The logos look great on both the home and away shirts and we look forward to carrying ebm-papst's name around the country."
